DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 41-50 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Chen (4,152,679).

Chen teaches a packaged inductor (see col. 1, lines 12 and 62) comprising:

a substrate 10 (see figs. 2 and 3);

a first insulating layer 14 over the substrate 10;

posts 22 over the insulating layer 14;

a conductive layer 26 deposited on top of the posts and in a pattern on the substrate; and a protective layer 72 over the conductive layer 26, the posts 22 and the first insulating layer 14.

3. Claims 41 and 52 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Takahashi (4,416,056).

Takahashi teaches a packaged inductor (see abstract) comprising:

a substrate 24 (see fig. 9);

a first insulating layer 26 over the substrate 24;

posts 16 over the insulating layer 26;

a conductive layer 28 deposited on top of the posts 16 and in a pattern (see fig. 10 for patterns) on the substrate;

a protective layer 13 (comprising of 13 and 37; see col. 4, line 44 and col. 5, line 20 for the protective layer 13 and 37) over the conductive layer 28, the posts 22 and the first insulating layer 26; and a second insulating layer 46 exposing (see reference number 43) the conductive layer 28 on the top of the post 16.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 48 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chen in view of Matsuyama et al. (5,208,656; Applicant submitted).

Chen teaches the claimed invention, including various insulating material (col. 2, line 21), except for the first insulating layer being a polyimide layer. Matsuyama et al. teaches the use of the polyimide insulation layer 3a (see fig. 2D) for meeting stringent requirement such as, heat resistance, low thermal expansion coefficient and processing precision (col. 1, lines 20-24).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide the inductor of Chen with the polyimide insulation layer as taught by Matsuyama et al., since the polyimide insulation layer of Matsuyama et al. would provide the inductor of Chen with advantages of heat resistance, low thermal expansion coefficient and processing precision.

Claim 49 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chen in view of Chang et al. (5,393,697; applicant submitted).

Chen teaches the claimed invention except for the conductive layer being gold. Chang et al. teaches the use of gold conductive layer 36 (see fig. 1) for its adhesion strength to polymer post 32.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide the package inductor of Chen with the conductive gold layer as taught by Chang et al., since, the gold layer of Chen would provide the package device of Chen with better adhesion strength to a polymer post.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 13-19 and 53 are allowed.

Claimed structure of claim 13 or 53 are neither disclosed nor suggested by the prior art.

6. Claims 42-47 and 51 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Art Unit: 2832
